Plenary Speaker

Marian Bakermans-Kranenburg

Marian Bakermans-Kranenburg is professor of Child and Family studies at Leiden University, Netherlands, with a special interest in the neurobiological determinants of parenting and development. She has been involved in studies on the intergenerational transmission of attachment, precursors and sequelae of (disorganized) attachment, and been part of developing the Video Feedback Intervention program to promote Positive Parenting & Sensitive Discipline (VIPP-SD). She is also interested in the hormonal correlates of parenting, and currently runs of a series of studies on neurobiological and behavioral aspects of fathering.

Invited Speakers

Ida Brandtzæg and Stig Thorsteinson

Ida and Stig are directors of "Attachment-Psychologists; Education-Center and Clinic" (Tilknytningspsykologene; Utdanningscenter og Klinikk) in Oslo. They have considerable experience working with Circle of Security (COS) and are accredited COS Supervisors and Trainers, implementing COS Intervention and COS Parenting in Scandinavia. They are currently working on transferring knowledge from attachment theory and the COS into practice in child care and school settings. They have written two books with Guro Øiestad (University of Oslo); Se Barnet Innenfra – Arbeid med Tilknytning i Barnehagen og Se eleven innenfra – Relasjonsarbeid og Mentalisering på Barnetrinnet (both available in Swedish and Danish).
